The University of Leeds Language Centre

- English language training
- Academic study skills
- Courses in a range of languages
- Independent language learning resources
- Excellent facilities on the University of Leeds campus
The Language Centre is:
- part of the School of Languages, Cultures & Societies in the Faculty of Arts

What is an English for Academic Purposes course?
A course designed to help international students develop their English and study skills before starting a UK degree.

Why study an English for Academic Purposes course?
- Improve your English
- Develop your research and study techniques
- Learn about academic study conventions in the UK

The Language Centre offers:
- courses in English for Academic Purposes for international students who are preparing for postgraduate and undergraduate studies in the UK
- a General English programme for students who wish to improve their communication skills in English and knowledge of British life and culture
- start dates in October, January, April, July and August
- courses in a range of languages at different levels
- independent language learning facilities and support

All English language programmes are accredited by the British Council for the teaching of English.

For more information visit: www.leeds.ac.uk/languages
Call +44 (0)113 343 3251
Email langc@leeds.ac.uk

The University of Leeds
- The University of Leeds is one of Britain's leading research universities with over 30,000 full-time students and over 5000 international students from 142 countries
- A single campus on the edge of the city centre
- University accommodation available to all international students

For more information visit: www.leeds.ac.uk