Social Science – A World of Possibilities!

A Year 12 enrichment event

For students with an interest in Sociology, Geography, Environment, Politics or Law

University of Leeds, Wednesday 17th January 2018

Year 12 students are invited to our one day enrichment event on 17th January, specially tailored for those interested in geography, environment, politics, sociology or law. There are three programmes to choose from, all including material pitched at the same level as the first year of university. The aim is to inspire students to study the subjects they enjoy at a higher level, and to give students a taste of what it’s like to study at university.

Refreshments and lunch will be provided.

Please see below for details. To book places on any of these programmes, please complete the booking form and send to socialscience@leeds.ac.uk

Unaccompanied students are welcome to attend, but they must be booked in by the school.

Please note: Each student can attend one programme only, and cannot move between programmes on the day.

Geography and Environment

9:45 Registration and refreshments
10:15 What are the major challenges for our cities in the 21st century?
12:00 Lunch
13:00 Discovering geography with GIS
14:15 Could the oceans get as hot as your bath?
14:45 Conclusion and feedback
15:00 End

Sociology & Social Policy, Politics & International Studies

9:45 Registration and refreshments
10:15 From the early 20th Century Alien to the late 20th Century Alien: The Immigrant
11:15 Countering Terrorism in Further Education
12:15 Lunch
13:15 Brexit, hope and the civic curriculum
14:45 Conclusion and feedback
15:00 End

Law

9:45 Registration and refreshments
10:15 Doctors and conjoined twins: Can murder ever be justified?
12:00 Lunch
13:00 The great fracking debate!
14:45 Conclusion and feedback
15:00 End