IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Information provided by the University, such as in presentations, University brochures and on the University website, is accurate at the time of first disclosure. However, courses, University services and content of publications remain subject to change. Changes may be necessary to comply with the requirements of accrediting bodies or to keep courses contemporary through updating practices or areas of study. Circumstances may arise outside the reasonable control of the University leading to required changes. Such circumstances include industrial action, unexpected student numbers, significant staff illness (where a course is reliant upon a person's expertise), unexpected lack of funding, severe weather, fire, civil disorder, political unrest, government restrictions and serious concern with regard to the transmission of serious illness making a course unsafe to deliver. After a student has taken up a place with the University, the University will look to give early notification of any changes and try to minimise their impact, offering suitable alternative arrangements or forms of compensation where it believes there is a fair case to do so. The latest key information on courses, entry requirements and fees can be found at courses.leeds.ac.uk and www.leeds.ac.uk/pgr. Please check this website before making any decisions.

RESEARCH THAT MAKES A DIFFERENCE

Our research tackles the big issues affecting today's world. Here are some of the ways our discoveries are making a real difference to society.

We're pioneering a technique to avoid rejection of transplant tissue by combining our medical engineering and medical immunology expertise.

Our researchers were part of a breakthrough in the development of terahertz quantum cascade lasers, which could lead to ultra-fast transmission of data, potentially benefiting hospitals, research facilities and satellite communications.

MAKE AN IMPACT

“My lecturers were involved in the latest robotics research that impacts our lives in a big way – it’s an exciting area. I learnt the theory in the classroom and then I got to apply it practically in the lab. I enjoyed the hands-on element of working with electronics and mechanics. For one of my projects I designed a robotic arm for a drone that could pick up and place objects. It’s great how you can think outside the box at Leeds.”

RESEARCH-BASED LEARNING

You’ll join a leading UK research university and one of the top 100 universities in the world (QS World University Rankings 2021).

We’re a founding member of the prestigious Russell Group of 24 research-intensive universities. This means research is at the heart of your learning at Leeds, whatever your level of study.

Our courses are designed and taught by staff who are experts in their fields. Their research feeds directly into your course, so you can hear about the latest breakthroughs, even before they’re published.

Undergraduate and Masters students

As an undergraduate or Masters student, you’ll carry out a research project, giving you the chance to develop and apply your research skills and make your own discoveries. We’ll encourage you to develop a researcher mindset – investigating, questioning and improving.

Postgraduate researchers

As a postgraduate researcher, you can be confident of structured supervision that challenges and supports you. Our Doctoral College brings together all the support services and opportunities available to enhance your research, your development and your overall experience at Leeds.

Contribute to our research excellence

We need researchers at all levels with exciting new ideas and approaches. Over half our submissions to REF 2014 included contributions from our PhD researchers.

INSPIRATIONAL TEACHING

We'll challenge you to explore, question and discover, and to be an active partner in your own learning.

You'll study among inspirational academics and be exposed to the latest discoveries in your subject area.

We achieved a Gold rating in the government's Teaching Excellence Framework (TEF), recognising our commitment to teaching quality.

You'll benefit from a high-quality learning experience, which includes:

- a blend of virtual and face-to-face teaching (lectures, seminars and tutorials), with time for independent study, project work, laboratory practicals or fieldwork
- the latest digital learning technology in some lecture theatres and seminar rooms to enable collaborative and interactive learning
- access to video and audio recordings of most of your lectures and other learning activities through our Virtual Learning Environment

At undergraduate level, you'll broaden your studies beyond your subject area.
leedsforlife.leeds.ac.uk/broadening

“The University has invested heavily in digital technology over the last few years, recognising that education is changing and students' expectations are changing too. Digital technology can really support students' learning and help them to achieve their outcomes.”

Professor Neil Morris
Dean of Digital Education

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

There's lots of support to help you adjust to studying here, through:

- English language support, available before you start and while you're studying – see pages 13 and 59
- academic study skills advice and workshops – see page 17
- your personal tutor (undergraduate or Masters) or supervisor (postgraduate research)

LEADING RESEARCH FACILITIES

Enhance your learning with the outstanding facilities of a leading research-intensive university.

Our cutting-edge facilities could benefit you directly or indirectly through the data and insights they provide.

Whatever your specialism, we'll encourage you to collaborate with others in different disciplines to create new knowledge and insights.

Facilities that may help shape your studies at Leeds include:

LABORATORIES AND CLINICAL FACILITIES

Science, technology, engineering and maths students can develop their knowledge and techniques using industry-standard clinical and laboratory facilities.

STUDIO, WORKSHOP AND PERFORMANCE SPACES

Art, design, theatre and music students can refine their skills in fully equipped studios, workshops and performance spaces.

M&S COMPANY ARCHIVE

The archive of this well-known British company is housed on campus and offers exciting research opportunities across disciplines, from business to textiles.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

The University's Special Collections contains rare books, manuscripts and artworks for primary research.

YOUR LEARNING ENVIRONMENT

You'll find everything you need to support your studies. We're continually investing in our campus – from new laboratories and lecture theatres to one of the most impressive libraries in the UK.

LIBRARIES

The University Library is one of the UK's major academic research libraries. There are four libraries on campus, each offering a different working environment. They're equipped with the latest technology and have spaces for group and individual study.

Our Laidlaw Library was purpose built for undergraduate students. The Research Hub in the Edward Boyle Library is a dedicated space for researchers and postgraduates, with extra-large study desks – especially useful when writing up your research. The Brotherton Library is our oldest library, a beautiful historic space in which you can work and access rare books and manuscripts in the Special Collections Research Centre.

You can also benefit from friendly advice and academic skills support from expert Library staff.

library.leeds.ac.uk

TECHNOLOGY

Free high-speed wi-fi across campus and 24-hour computer clusters let you study when and where suits you. Teaching spaces with the latest digital technology help you to learn collaboratively and interactively.

You'll have access to a range of standard and specialist software, including Office 365, linked to your University account and available anywhere. You can access personalised content (like your timetable and library record) through the UniLeeds app and you'll find lots of help and support online and in person from our IT Service Desk.

ENGLISH AND OTHER LANGUAGES

Improve your English with the University's Language Centre. A pre-sessional course can help you meet the English language requirements of your course (see page 59). Our teaching staff will help you improve your academic English and prepare you for life at a UK university.

Once you've started your course, you can access learning materials from our Language Zone in different languages, including English. As well as a study and resource centre on campus, we offer online advice and digital resources, and language learning activities to help you study – all for free.

We also provide free English language workshops and one-to-one consultations alongside your degree.

DEVELOP YOUR EMPLOYABILITY

We understand that developing your employability alongside your academic studies is a priority. You'll have lots of opportunities to build your practical and transferable skills, and to benefit from careers events and advice.

We design our courses to be relevant to industry through:

- well-established links with leading organisations
- work placement opportunities and talks by industry experts
- tutors, who are also industry consultants and practitioners, sharing their experience with you
- professional accreditation and industrial advisory boards, which ensure courses meet employer needs

The academic school which runs your course can tell you about its employability focus.

GAIN PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

You can build your practical skills and understanding through:

- project work, fieldwork or work placements – included in many of our undergraduate and postgraduate courses
- short placement or internship opportunities outside your course – advertised through our Careers Service and your academic school
- part-time jobs – advertised through the Union's Joblink
- an undergraduate work placement year – extending your degree to work in a business or organisation. Check if the undergraduate degree you're interested in offers this at courses.leeds.ac.uk
- internship and ambassadorial opportunities at the University – a great way to build your skills and confidence while being paid

There are restrictions on the work (paid and unpaid) international students can do. Check what your visa allows and talk to our International Student Office if you're unsure.

“Having studied analytical philosophy as part of my course, I was able to put this into practice during my year at IBM. I learnt how to code and ran workshops to teach others how to do it. A real highlight was being part of IBM's team at Wimbledon, analysing matches and looking at how players were performing. I was really thrilled when I was offered a place on the IBM graduate programme, as I could look forward to a job that I'd enjoy.”

DEVELOP TRANSFERABLE SKILLS

Transferable skills – such as spoken and written communication and teamworking – are important whatever degree you're studying. You'll use them throughout your career and many employers look for them.

Your course or research will help you develop skills like problem-solving, analytical skills and creative thinking.

Free workshops and advice from our Skills@Library service can help you strengthen your skills in areas like report writing, presenting and time management.

Student clubs and societies (see page 28) also offer opportunities to develop your personal motivation, teamworking and leadership style – as well as have fun.

Leeds for Life

The Leeds for Life website brings together opportunities and helps you record your experiences, so you can talk clearly and confidently to potential employers about your skills and achievements.

leedsforlife.leeds.ac.uk

Volunteering

Volunteering is a great way to broaden your experience and develop transferable skills while giving something back to the local community. There are lots of volunteering opportunities you can get involved in once you're here. Thousands of our students volunteer for local community groups and charities every year.

luu.org.uk/volunteering

Enterprise at Leeds

There are opportunities to develop your entrepreneurial skills as part of your studies – on an enterprise-related course or (for undergraduates) through broadening (see page 10).

If you're inspired to start your own business, Spark, our business start-up service, can help you develop your idea into a viable business.

There are also some great enterprise-focused student societies where you can develop your skills and get practical experience (see page 28).

www.leeds.ac.uk/studententerprise

Study abroad

Most of our undergraduate courses offer you the chance to study abroad as part of your degree. We have one of the widest ranges of study abroad opportunities in the UK. You could take part in a summer school in Europe, Asia or Latin America or extend your degree to include a study abroad year.

www.leeds.ac.uk/studyabroad

CAREER ADVICE AND INFORMATION

Whether you are a student or researcher, our Careers Service offers a range of events, online resources and personal advice and support, including information especially for international students.

Make use of our online resources and personal support to understand your strengths and market yourself effectively. Get advice on résumé writing, job applications and interview skills.

Our many careers fairs, presentations, workshops and events can help you understand what employers are looking for and make valuable connections. Events often include overseas employers and international alumni.

You'll also find internships, placements and support in finding graduate jobs through our Careers Service website.

careerweb.leeds.ac.uk

Help from our alumni

As a student or researcher at Leeds, you can access one of the biggest alumni communities of any UK university – a global network of over 270,000 Leeds graduates in more than 190 countries. The Leeds Network is an online networking tool which lets you connect with alumni for practical careers advice and mentoring. You can also benefit from talks, internship opportunities and scholarships provided by our alumni.

BUILDING YOUR RESEARCHER PROFILE

Your personalised online training plan, agreed between you and your supervisor, is the cornerstone of your professional development. To help you develop the skills relevant to your research and future career, we offer workshops, courses and seminars specially designed for postgraduate researchers.

“I'm looking forward to going to some conferences this year and meeting people doing similar work. Networking is very important when you are doing any kind of research. The University organises a lot of seminars and talks, so you not only get to know people from your very specific area but other people too. There are socials as well after seminars; you can always learn from others, so that's great.”

Andrea Vidal Dura

Postgraduate researcher in biogeochemistry

 Read more about Andrea's experience of networking at www.leeds.ac.uk/andreavidaldura

As a postgraduate researcher, sharing your research and building your professional profile (including through conference presentations) are crucial. Our Doctoral College and your academic school offer opportunities to connect with other researchers and training to help you realise your professional goals.

FEEL AT HOME

“I was a bit nervous coming to university because I'd never travelled alone before. It was a big relief when I saw the University of Leeds sign at the airport. The team were very friendly and helped me get to my accommodation, where the staff helped me to settle in. The best part has been the friends I've made. You'll never feel alone in Leeds because your circle of friends can become your family.”

STUDENTS' UNION

You'll join one of the best and most active students' unions in the country. Its mission is to make sure you love your time at Leeds.

Leeds University Union brings together our student community and is 100% student led. It's a place to meet, work, socialise and relax. It also offers independent help, advice, support and representation.

The Union building is in the middle of campus. You can buy most things there – from everyday groceries and University clothing to books and stationery. There's even a market selling local produce right outside the Union every Monday in term time.

The Union has cafés, bars and clubs, as well as theatres for student performances, live entertainment, comedy nights and film screenings. Union venues are also a destination for top bands and artists.

GET INVOLVED

With more than 300 student-led clubs and societies, you'll find like-minded people, whatever your interests. Football, debating, theatre, gaming, dance, photography, skydiving, even Quidditch are just a few of your options. There are different national and faith societies too. Give it a Go sessions are a great way to try something new. And if you and your friends want to take part in an activity which doesn't have a club, the Union will help you set one up.

Most academic schools have their own societies too, with social events and talks from industry professionals. They're a great way to get to know people from other courses and year groups.

WELLBEING AND SUPPORT

The University offers lots of resources and information to support you.

Our Student Services Centre can help and advise you on accommodation, registration, fees and funding, and more. Our For Students website will direct you to all the support services on offer.

students.leeds.ac.uk

Leeds University Union offers impartial help and support with any problems you might have as a student. Although the team specialises in housing, money and academic concerns, they can support you with anything. Their help is free and completely independent of the University.

MEDICAL CARE

Leeds Student Medical Practice is a National Health Service (NHS) practice which cares for students and their immediate families. It's close to campus and offers all the usual general practitioner (GP) services. Read its advice for international students.

www.leedsstudentmedicalpractice.co.uk/international-students

If you need a visa to study in the UK, you will have to pay an immigration health surcharge when you make your visa application. This entitles you to health services under the NHS. The surcharge you pay is based on the length of your visa.

CHILDCARE ON CAMPUS

The Bright Beginnings Childcare Centre, on campus, offers places for children between the ages of three months and five years (preschool). There's also a playscheme in the school holidays for children aged between three and 11 years.

www.brightbeginningschildcare.co.uk

MULTIFAITH CAMPUS

There are dedicated spaces across campus for prayer and quiet contemplation. In addition, the Emmanuel Centre is a place of welcome and friendship, which offers support to you while you're here. You can join in with regular events or talk in confidence to one of our chaplains, who have different faith backgrounds.

LEEDS AND YORKSHIRE

A lively, cosmopolitan city in the centre of the UK. Easy access to London and mainland Europe. Beautiful countryside nearby. Just some of the reasons our students love Leeds.

INTRODUCING LEEDS

Leeds is at the heart of the UK – a regional hub for business, culture and sport, with a rich industrial heritage and everything you'd expect from one of the country's largest and fastest-growing cities.

We're a multicultural city, home to people of many nationalities and faiths. You'll find places of worship to practise your religious beliefs and others who share them.

Food and ingredients from around the world are easy to find. Kirkgate Market in the city centre offers a huge range of fresh vegetables, fruit, spices and foods from many different countries.

There are several specialist international supermarkets in the city centre and most large supermarkets sell international foods.

There's lots of green space, including parks, in and around the city and stunning countryside all around us. The Yorkshire Dales and Peak District national parks, the North York Moors and the Lake District are all within easy reach.

Leeds is well connected, nationally and internationally, with excellent transport links. It's only 30 minutes from Leeds Bradford international airport and one hour from Manchester airport. A rail service connects you to London and other parts of the country. There's good, safe transport around the city too.

YOUR STUDY OPTIONS

Study with us at international foundation, undergraduate, Masters or postgraduate research level. Or get a taste of Leeds through our international summer school or short-term study programme.

INTERNATIONAL FOUNDATION YEAR ROUTES

There are several international foundation year routes which allow you to progress to our undergraduate degree courses.

UNIVERSITY OF LEEDS INTERNATIONAL FOUNDATION YEAR

This is one of the most established and successful international foundation year programmes of its type in the UK. For more than 30 years the University of Leeds International Foundation Year has been helping high-achieving international students to realise their ambition of studying for an undergraduate degree at the University of Leeds.

During this year of study, all your teaching is delivered by academic staff at the University of Leeds. You are taught on campus and have full access to University facilities.

Alongside academic study skills and English, you will study subject-specific, tailored modules, designed to ensure that you are fully prepared for your next years of undergraduate study. The International Foundation Year is available for more than 140 different degree courses across the University. internationalfoundationyear.leeds.ac.uk

OTHER FOUNDATION YEAR OPTIONS

International Foundation Year at Leeds International Study Centre

If you don't meet the entry requirements to study at the University of Leeds, Study Group offers an alternative International Foundation Year at Leeds International Study Centre (LISC). This option provides more flexible entry requirements and start dates in September or January. Students are taught by Study Group staff and are based at Leeds Beckett University's campus.

You will gain the academic knowledge and language skills to allow you to progress (when you've successfully completed the course) to Year 1 of a range of undergraduate degrees in business, engineering, law or science at the University of Leeds. LISC also offers International Year One preparation programmes in certain subjects, allowing progression to Year 2 of an undergraduate degree at the University of Leeds.

International Foundation Year with NCUK

You can also choose to complete foundation year preparation in your home country. The University of Leeds is one of the founder universities of NCUK, which delivers a range of undergraduate and postgraduate degree pathway qualifications specifically designed as preparation for international students. These qualifications include undergraduate International Foundation Year and International Year One programmes and a postgraduate Pre-Masters Preparation programme. NCUK provides an extensive network of study centres globally.

UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

Our undergraduate degrees offer a high level of academic knowledge, as well as great opportunities to develop your personal and professional skills. You can choose from single or joint honours and Integrated Masters courses. Many courses allow you to extend your degree and spend a year on work placement or studying abroad.

On all our courses – single and joint honours – you carry out a final-year research project. On an Integrated Masters course, you study for four years: the first three years at undergraduate level and the final year at postgraduate level.

Joint honours

This guide gives a general overview of our courses. For all the study options and subject combinations you can study, visit courses.leeds.ac.uk

SHORT-TERM STUDY

If you can't commit to degree study with us, you can still experience studying at the University of Leeds and life in the UK.

Study at the University, for a semester or academic year, alongside home and international students taking full degree courses. Choose from a wide range of undergraduate modules in all faculties. You may be able to transfer any credits you gain to your degree in your home country. www.leeds.ac.uk/incomingstudyabroad

LEEDS INTERNATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL

Immerse yourself in British culture with our exciting short programme. The Leeds International Summer School combines world-class tuition with academic field trips. You'll also enjoy social activities and cultural visits, both in Yorkshire and to famous UK cities. www.leeds.ac.uk/summer

MASTERS COURSES

A Masters course offers the chance to study your subject at a higher level and enhance your career prospects.

Our full-time Masters courses normally last up to 12 months. Courses may include a blend of online and face-to-face teaching. We also offer online-only courses and distance learning courses, which involve online study plus face-to-face meetings (subject to residential status).

You qualify as a Master of Arts (MA), a Master of Science (MSc) or other knowledge area. A Masters of Research (MRes) is an advanced, research-based degree which helps to prepare you for PhD study or a research career. www.leeds.ac.uk/masters

POSTGRADUATE RESEARCH

Studying for a research degree is about pushing the boundaries of knowledge. A doctorate normally takes three years of full-time study to complete.

POSTGRADUATE RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

Studying for a doctorate is about pushing the boundaries of knowledge. You'll conduct your own supervised research and will need to be passionate about your subject.

We'll challenge you intellectually and push you to new levels. A doctorate normally takes three years' full-time study to complete. It's hard work but the rewards can be huge. In the end, you'll be an expert in your field.

The scale and quality of our research gives you the opportunity to be part of internationally important work. Over half our submissions to REF 2014 included contributions from PhD researchers. You can work on existing projects, such as sustainable food sources and climate change, or conduct your own independent research project. And you'll find all the facilities and support you need to excel during your time here.

The University of Leeds is home to several interdisciplinary centres, like the Priestley International Centre for Climate and the Astbury Centre for Structural Molecular Biology, which pool expertise from different disciplines to extend the limits of knowledge.

Whatever your specialism, there will be opportunities for you to work with others in your discipline and across disciplines through research groups, conferences and informal networks and socials, both within the University and in other institutions.

Our Doctoral College will support you throughout your time as a postgraduate researcher. It brings together all the support services and opportunities you'll need to enhance your research, your development and your overall experience.

Find out about our research projects, funding opportunities, research areas and supervisors at phd.leeds.ac.uk

NEXT STEPS

Choosing the right university is an important decision and an investment in your future.

COSTS TO CONSIDER

There are two main costs to consider at university: tuition fees and living costs.

TUITION FEES

The tuition fees for 2021 should be confirmed by autumn 2020 and will be available on our website. The UK government has confirmed that from the start of the 2021–22 academic year EU students will pay international fees.

For undergraduate and Masters students read more at courses.leeds.ac.uk

For postgraduate researchers read more at www.leeds.ac.uk/pgrfees

If you will be studying a Masters and you need a Tier 4 student visa to study in the UK, you must pay a tuition fee deposit, unless you are fully funded by a University-recognised sponsor. Find out more at www.leeds.ac.uk/tuitionfeedeports

LIVING COSTS

Living costs include things like the cost of your accommodation, food, transport and social activities. Leeds is a relatively low-cost city compared to some areas of the UK, but you still need to budget carefully. Get advice on money, budgeting and the cost of living in Leeds on our For Students website at students.leeds.ac.uk/budgetandcosts

When you apply for your visa, you'll have to prove that you can support yourself financially while in the UK. Contact our immigration advisers if you have any questions.

www.leeds.ac.uk/immigration

FUNDING

Studying abroad is a big investment. Being able to finance your studies is an important factor in your decision to study in the UK. You might be able to get funding from government, independent sponsors, the University or other funding bodies.

FUNDING FROM YOUR GOVERNMENT

Check if any funding is available from your country to study in the UK. This could be from your home government, or from companies or organisations based in your home country. Visit their websites or contact your local government office.

FUNDING FROM THE UK GOVERNMENT

The UK government offers postgraduate scholarships to international students, such as the Chevening Awards and the Commonwealth Scholarships. Read more at www.gov.uk/postgraduate-scholarships-international-students

There is also funding for students in specific countries. Find out what's available from the British Council website.

<https://study-uk.britishcouncil.org/options/scholarships-financial-support>

FUNDING FROM THE UNIVERSITY

We offer a wide range of scholarships for international students to help towards paying tuition fees or living costs. Check the relevant website below and your academic school's webpages. Scholarships can be very competitive, so it's important you make enquiries and apply to all possible sources of funding at an early stage. Keep checking for updates, as new scholarships are added throughout the year.

APPLYING TO STUDY HERE

Understand the qualifications and English language level you will need, and the visa and immigration requirements.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

All our taught degree courses (undergraduate and Masters) have different entry requirements. Check the entry requirements for the course you're interested in at courses.leeds.ac.uk

For postgraduate research degrees, check entry requirements on the academic school's webpages or contact the faculty graduate school.
www.leeds.ac.uk/graduateschoolcontacts

We accept a range of international qualifications. Check the accepted qualifications and equivalent requirements from your country at www.leeds.ac.uk/internationalqualifications

If you want to study an undergraduate degree but are not able to gain the equivalent of A-level qualifications in your country, you should consider applying for an international foundation year, which prepares you for undergraduate study. Read about the different foundation year options on page 39 and at internationalfoundationyear.leeds.ac.uk

English language requirements

If English is not your first language, you will need a recognised English language qualification to study at the University. We accept a range of qualifications, including IELTS. Read more about the qualifications we accept at www.leeds.ac.uk/internationalentry

English language requirements vary between courses. Check the requirement for your course at courses.leeds.ac.uk

For postgraduate research degrees, check the academic school's webpages or contact the faculty graduate school.

English language courses

Improve your English before you start your studies with a course at the University Language Centre. Our pre-sessional English courses can help you meet the English language requirements of your academic course and prepare you for life and study in the UK.

You'll benefit from:

- start dates throughout the year
- study for up to 40 weeks
- courses for your study level:
 - » our undergraduate pre-sessional English course will help you transition from high school to university
 - » for Masters students, teaching in the summer is tailored to your subject area
 - » postgraduate researchers will have the opportunity to study with other researchers
- teaching on our University campus
- access to University facilities, including language learning resources in the Language Zone
- course content informed by research into language learning

You can apply to stay in University accommodation while studying your pre-sessional English course. Find out more about our pre-sessional courses and apply at www.leeds.ac.uk/languagecentre

Visas and immigration requirements

If you're an international (non-EEA/Swiss) student, you will need to hold an appropriate visa to study in the UK.

www.gov.uk/tier-4-general-visa

Read about how to apply for your visa at www.leeds.ac.uk/tier4visa

If you're an EEA/Swiss student, keep checking our website for updates. At the time of printing, the situation for study starting after 2020/2021 was not known.
