IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Information provided by the University, such as in presentations, University brochures and on the University website, is accurate at the time of first disclosure. However, courses, University services and content of publications remain subject to change. Changes may be necessary to comply with the requirements of accrediting bodies or to keep courses contemporary through updating practices or areas of study. Circumstances may arise outside the reasonable control of the University leading to required changes. Such circumstances include industrial action, unexpected student numbers, significant staff illness (where a course is reliant upon a person's expertise), unexpected lack of funding, severe weather, fire, civil disorder, political unrest, government restrictions and serious concern with regard to the transmission of serious illness making a course unsafe to deliver. After a student has taken up a place with the University, the University will look to give early notification of any changes and try to minimise their impact, offering suitable alternative arrangements or forms of compensation where it believes there is a fair case to do so. The latest key information on courses, entry requirements and fees can be found at courses.leeds.ac.uk. Please check this website before making any decisions.

Welcome to Leeds.

Congratulations on your offer.
We're delighted that you are considering the University of Leeds as your next step.

Next steps.

Choose Leeds as your university. Here's everything you need to know about your offer and how to accept your place.

Your offer explained

Accepting your offer with us is just the beginning of your journey and we'll be there to support you every step of the way.

Conditional offers

If you have received a conditional offer from the University, your place here is dependent on providing evidence that you have met the conditions outlined in your offer letter. If you have an academic offer condition, we need to see your degree certificate and transcripts as evidence.

If you have an English language condition, you may be able to meet the requirements by taking a pre-session course at our Language Centre. You can find out more on page 9.

To meet your condition(s) you can upload your evidence and accept your offer with us in the application portal at application.leeds.ac.uk

Unconditional offers

If you have received an unconditional offer from us, you will have met all the relevant academic and English language requirements. All you need to do is accept your offer in the application portal and, if you require a Student visa, you'll need to pay a tuition fee deposit or provide evidence that you are fully funded by a University-recognised sponsor or have a scholarship. We'll send you more information about this when you accept your offer. When you come to Leeds, make sure you bring with you your original academic documents and any translations, or certified copies.

View and accept your offer in our application portal at application.leeds.ac.uk

Information for international students

If you are coming to the UK to study, there are some additional things to consider. International students require a Student visa to study in the UK.

Applying for a visa

First, you will need to pay a tuition fee deposit or provide evidence that your tuition fees are fully covered by a University-recognised sponsor or scholarship. We will then be able to issue your Confirmation of Acceptance for Studies (CAS). Once you have this you can apply for a Student visa.

The earliest that we can issue your CAS is six months before the start of your course.

For further information on your visa application and UKVI regulations, please visit www.leeds.ac.uk/studentvisa

The University has specialist visa advisors who can answer questions about visa applications and advise on documents required at any stage in the process. You can contact them at studentvisaadvice@leeds.ac.uk

Document translations

If your offer has an academic condition, you will need to include official translations alongside your final academic documents if they were not originally produced in English. These translations should be signed and dated by an official translator and include their credentials, company details and confirmation that the translation is accurate.

Pre-sessional English courses

Improve your academic English before you start your Masters with a course at the University Language Centre. Our pre-sessional English courses can help you meet the English language requirements of your Masters and prepare you for life and study at a UK university.

You'll benefit from:

- help in improving your level of academic English to meet University entry requirements and perform effectively in the academic environment of your subject
- opportunities to practise the skills you'll need for your Masters, such as writing assignments, conducting research exercises, and participating in discussions
- learning on campus, becoming familiar with University systems, services and facilities before you begin your Masters
- learning best practice teaching methods, from staff engaged in language learning research

Whatever your field, whether arts, social sciences, business or science, our summer courses are tailored to your subject area, so you learn academic English that specifically prepares you for your degree.

Summer courses are full time over ten or six weeks (July–September) and entry requirements vary depending on the language requirements and subject area of your Masters course. Pre-sessional courses are also available for longer periods.

For more information, entry requirements, and how to apply visit www.leeds.ac.uk/pgpreessional

Accepting your offer

I'm a UK student

I have been given a conditional offer

This means that you have not yet met the requirements for the course. The conditions of your offer are included in your letter. Please upload the documents to meet these conditions (page 7).

Accept your conditional offer at application.leeds.ac.uk

Please note that you may have to accept your offer again if it becomes unconditional.

Accept your unconditional offer at application.leeds.ac.uk

I have been given a combined offer

If you take a summer pre-sessional English course to meet your language condition (page 9), you may be eligible for a combined offer. This means that when you pass your pre-sessional, and have met any conditions in your offer letter, you are automatically enrolled on your degree course.

ATAS clearance

Check your offer letter to see if you need to apply for ATAS clearance. You need to have received your ATAS clearance before you apply for your Student visa.

What we need from you

In addition to the evidence to meet your conditions, please make sure you also provide any other information requested (eg passport details and any previous UK CAS, BRPs and visas), as well information to clarify your fee status, if we asked you for this.

If your offer is unconditional and you need a Student visa, after accepting your offer you must either pay a tuition fee deposit or provide a letter showing that you are fully funded by a University-recognised sponsor. Sponsored students must also provide further information to support this at the fee-paying stage (page 13). Once we receive your deposit or funding information, we will issue your CAS.

If you have a combined offer, you will receive a joint CAS for both the pre-sessional and the degree course.

The earliest that we can issue your CAS is six months before your course start date. Once you've received your CAS, you can then apply for your visa.

Fees and funding

There are two main costs to consider in your postgraduate study: tuition fees and your living costs.

Financial support

Postgraduate study is a big investment, but you might be able to get financial support. Find out more at www.leeds.ac.uk/mastersfunding

Funding from the government

If you are ordinarily resident in England or the Republic of Ireland and are planning to study a taught or research Masters course full time, part time or by distance learning, you may be able to apply for a Postgraduate Loan from the UK Government. This will contribute to the cost of your postgraduate studies.

www.leeds.ac.uk/government-postgraduate-loans

For up-to-date information on the Loan for 2022 entry, visit www.gov.uk/funding-for-postgraduate-study

Funding from the University

We offer a wide range of scholarships for UK and international students to help towards paying tuition fees or living costs. Scholarships can be very competitive, so it's important you make enquiries and apply to all possible sources of funding at an early stage. Check the University website below and your academic school's webpages.

Funding for international students

Check if any funding is available from your country to study in the UK. This could be from your home government, or from companies or organisations based in your home country. Visit their websites or contact your local government office.

Alumni bursary

If you are a graduate of the University of Leeds and you are studying for a Masters degree, you may be eligible for a 10% alumni tuition fee bursary. Check your eligibility at www.leeds.ac.uk/alumnibursary

Paying your tuition fees

Details of your postgraduate tuition fees have been included with your offer letter. If you have any specific questions, please contact the admissions team in your school or department.

www.leeds.ac.uk/pgfeesguidance

Deposits for international students

If you're a Masters applicant who needs a Student visa to study in the UK, you will be asked to pay a tuition fee deposit of £1,500.

Once you have accepted your unconditional offer, we will tell you how and when to pay your deposit.

We can only issue a Confirmation of Acceptance for Studies (CAS) once you have accepted an unconditional offer, provided all relevant information (such as passport details and previous UK CAS and visas) and paid the tuition fee deposit.

For more information on when a Confirmation of Acceptance for Studies (CAS) will be issued visit www.leeds.ac.uk/studentvisa

Sponsored students are exempt from paying a deposit once they have provided evidence.

For full details please visit www.leeds.ac.uk/tuitionfeedeports

Self-funding students

As part of online registration, you will need to arrange payment of your fees in full or in two instalments. For detailed information on how to pay, please visit

students.leeds.ac.uk/feescharges

Sponsored students

If you are going to be supported financially by your government, employer or other sponsor (but not by your parents or family) you must provide a letter from the sponsor, stating the amount to be paid and the address for invoicing on letterheaded paper to sponsors@leeds.ac.uk

Sponsors must pay fees in full when invoiced, as no instalment arrangement is available. If you are a sponsored student you will be unable to register until the sponsor letter has been received and confirmed by the Student Finance (Fees) team.

More information can be found at www.leeds.ac.uk/sponsoredstudents

Research with impact

Our academic community is engaged in pioneering research. Take strides with us to create a better world.

The world faces large and complex problems. In our drive to find solutions, we bring together wide-ranging expertise to create extraordinary solutions right here on campus.

We work collaboratively with industry and business to develop innovative commercial solutions together, through our innovation hub, Nexus, and by bringing together experts from different disciplines.

Making a difference

Our research tackles the big issues affecting today's world. Here are some of the ways our discoveries are making a real difference to society.

Empowering conflict survivors

We're supporting young conflict survivors across the world through a project which helps them use creative media to understand and share their experiences.

Estimating sea level rises

An international team, including researchers from Leeds, are estimating sea level rises more accurately, using satellite data to generate information on polar ice thickness and melting rates.

Combining engineering and immunology

We've pioneered a technique to avoid rejection of transplant tissue by combining our medical engineering and medical immunology expertise.

Understanding COVID-19

Our Astbury Centre for Structural Molecular Biology is part of an international collaboration using computer simulation to discover new antiviral drugs to treat COVID-19.

Living in Leeds

You'll soon feel at home here in Leeds. We're sure you'll find something to meet your needs, whether you're looking for a flat, a shared house or family accommodation.

University accommodation

All our University postgraduate accommodation is self-catered, with a well-equipped kitchen you share with a few other residents. All residences have launderettes or washing machines.

There are different sizes and types of room to suit different budgets, including en-suite and with shared bathrooms. Rooms with a shared bathroom may also have a washbasin. All rooms have a bed and mattress, wardrobe, study table, chair and shelves.

If you are a new, single postgraduate student paying international fees and you apply before the deadline, we guarantee* an offer of University accommodation.

If you are a UK student we can't guarantee University accommodation, but don't worry, there is lots of good-quality private housing for students in Leeds (see page 29).

We guarantee* an offer of single University accommodation to all new, single postgraduate students paying international fees who apply before the deadline.

Benefits of University accommodation

Our postgraduate-only residences are designed with you in mind, offering:

- flexible payment methods
- a safe and supported environment, with a 24-hour security service
- help and support from wardens
- a quiet place to study
- comfortable relaxation spaces
- opportunities to meet other people at a similar career stage

And don't forget, your rent includes:

- all utility bills
- wi-fi
- basic contents insurance
- free Edge Club gym and sports membership

*Restrictions apply relating to deadlines, residence, academic fee status and level of study.

“My University residence is close to campus and it feels safe, with security services on call 24 hours a day. Living with other international postgraduates means you can study and share ideas.”

Qian Wang

Our postgraduate residences are all self-catered and have a 51-week contract length. They are:

Accommodation	En-suite available	Number of beds	Distance from Uni	Prices per week in 2021/22*
Blenheim Point	Yes	180	200m	from £143
Grayson Heights	No	110	3.4km	from £105
Royal Park Flats	No	112	1.5km	from £111
St Mark's Residence	Yes	526	400m	from £148

Prices reflect differences in room size or facilities. These things determine exactly what you pay per week. The price you see on your contract is the price you will pay.

* For the latest information on accommodation costs visit accommodation.leeds.ac.uk/postgraduate

Costs to consider

The cost of your University accommodation will depend on the location you choose and the facilities on offer, with prices ranging from £105–£153 a week*. Don't forget that basic insurance cover, wi-fi, energy costs, free use of a washing machine or laundry credits and Edge Club gym and sports membership are all included in your rent.

Flexible payment methods

We've made it easy to pay your accommodation fees. There are no hidden extras, so the price you see on your contract is what you pay. You can pay in full, or in three or eight instalments. The first instalment isn't due until October, so other than a £200 deposit payment on accepting the contract, you don't have to pay any rent until after you move in.

How to apply

You can apply for University accommodation once you have accepted your academic offer from Leeds. Remember you must apply for University accommodation by 1 July 2022. Apply online through our accommodation website.

www.leeds.ac.uk/accommodation-pg-apply

Pre-sessional courses

If you are attending a pre-sessional course, apply online through our accommodation website.

If you continue to study at the University after your summer pre-sessional course ends you must make another (second) online application for your accommodation from September. Make sure you apply by the accommodation deadline of 1 July 2022.

Accommodation if you start mid-session

If your course starts outside the normal September date, please apply for accommodation at least two months before you arrive so we can make you an offer of accommodation.

* This year's prices may change in the next academic year.

Private sector accommodation

Leeds has a wide range of good-quality private accommodation to suit all lifestyles and budgets, ranging from family and shared houses to studios and en-suite accommodation in private, large developments. Local suburbs offer family homes, good schools and green spaces.

Costs will depend on the type of property and location you choose. From the leafy suburbs of Horsforth and Headingley to modern city centre apartments, there are lots of options to choose from.

Independent help and advice

You can find out about all types of accommodation through Unipol, a student homes charity, which also has information about average rent costs in Leeds.

www.unipolhousing.org.uk/leeds

For independent help and information about all aspects of private accommodation, the student union has an advice centre.

Join one of the best and most active students' unions in the country. Its mission is to make sure you love your time at Leeds.

Leeds University Union is a place to meet, work, socialise and relax. It also offers independent help, advice and support.

It is 100% student-led, with postgraduate student representatives in every school, so you can make sure your views are heard and influence real change in the Union, across the University and even in the city itself. You can join student campaigns and find a job through the Union's job shop, Joblink.

The Union building is in the middle of campus. You can buy most things there – from everyday groceries and University clothing to books and stationery.

The Union has cafés, bars and clubs, as well as performance spaces. Top bands and artists play there too.

Get involved

Whatever hobby you're into, or fancy trying, you'll find a club or society and some like-minded people. With more than 300 student-led clubs and societies, everything is covered – from faith to hiking, film to snowboarding, and plenty of general interest societies. City life.

A lively, cosmopolitan city in the centre of the UK. Easy access to London and mainland Europe. Beautiful countryside nearby. Just some of the reasons our students love Leeds.

Leeds

Our campus is just a 10-minute walk from the vibrant city centre.

Leeds has everything you'd expect from one of the UK's largest and fastest-growing cities making it an exciting place to live and learn. It's also surrounded by lots of green space and stunning countryside to escape to.

If you're relocating to Leeds we're confident it won't be long before you're calling it home.

Wellbeing and support

You'll have a network of support and wellbeing services dedicated to helping you.

Support services

You'll be able to access lots of resources and information to help you through your time at Leeds.

Our For Students website directs you to these support services, making it easy for you to find the right help when you need it.

students.leeds.ac.uk

Once you've started at the University, our student information points can offer guidance on accommodation, registration, fees and funding.

Independent student advice

Leeds University Union offers impartial help and support with any problems you have as a student. Although the team specialises in housing, money and academic concerns, they can support you with anything. Their help is free and completely independent of the University.

Medical care

Leeds Student Medical Practice is a National Health Service (NHS) practice which cares for students and their immediate families. It's close to campus and offers all the usual general practitioner (GP) services.

www.leedsstudentmedicalpractice.co.uk

If you need a visa to study in the UK, you will have to pay an immigration health surcharge when you make your visa application. This entitles you to health services under the National Health Service (NHS). The amount of the surcharge is based on the length of your visa.

Support for international students

You'll join a friendly and diverse global community here at Leeds.

We've been welcoming international students for over 100 years, so you can be sure of experienced help and support.

Before you arrive

Our team of Student visa experts can give you free specialist immigration advice. There's also ongoing support to help you adapt and settle into life in the UK.

You can contact our immigration advisors on:
studentvisaadvice@leeds.ac.uk
www.leeds.ac.uk/immigration

We'll provide information and services to help you prepare for travel to the University and to welcome you on arrival. You'll get practical advice such as how to organise your accommodation and what to bring with you.

www.leeds.ac.uk/travel

We hold pre-departure briefing sessions for international students, both online and in some countries, to help you prepare for your time at Leeds. Invitations to these events will be sent to you by email.

We also hold and attend a range of virtual and in-country events to give advice on life as an international student in Leeds.

www.leeds.ac.uk/visittostourcountry

We have offices in China, India, Japan, Malaysia and Nigeria, as well as a global network of representatives who can advise you about studying here.
